COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE ACADEMY.

The Eleventh Session Comes to a Close in a Blaze of Glory.

The young ladies and young men's declamatory contest on last Saturday evening was well attended. W. H. DeBuck presided as chairman.

There were strong efforts made by each of the contestants, it being decidedly one of the best contests we have ever witnessed in the history of the academy. The young ladies came first on the program, followed by the young men. After the invocation pronounced by Rev. Degendorf, the speakers were introduced, the first being Miss Eva Jackson, of Spencer, Ky., subject—"The Keeper of the Light," followed by Miss Menrovia Testerman, of Grassy, Ky., subject—"The Dumb Savior," and Miss Lydia Ledford, of Spencer, Ky., subject—"The Confessional." After the three young ladies there was music given by Misses Hall and Rose. Then came W. H. Whitt, of Perlie, Ky., subject—"The World Needs Light." W. H. Roark came next in a thrilling patriotic speech, titled "The Unknown Speaker." The next speaker was C. E. Ledford, of Spencer, Ky., subject—"The Rising of '76," then C. P. Rodgers, of Furnace, Ky., was introduced, his speech was a very touching, titled—"The Lonely Death-bed," then B. M. Mannin, of Toliver, Ky., was introduced, his subject being "The Centennial." Last but not least, came W. C. Campbell, of Hazel Green, Ky., his subject being "The Fall of Pemberton Mill." All of the speakers received the best of attention. The judges then retired and Miss Bernice Hall entertained the house with a vocal solo, after which the judges returned, and in a neat little speech Rev. Degendorf awarded the medals to Miss Eva Jackson and Clay Campbell. The young ladies and gentlemen acquitted themselves with honor, and we are sorry we have not more space to speak of the many superior qualifications of each, but certainly success will be theirs if they will only go on.

Prof. Cord delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the Christian church Sunday morning, his text being in the question, "Wherewithal shall a young man clear his way?" And it was so plain and to the point as to impress all who heard it as a most appropriate address for the occasion.

On Monday evening the entertainment given by the two societies of the academy was attended with great interest; the crowd being so large that the seating capacity of the hall could not comfortably accommodate more than half the audience. The program was a well selected one and showed that the teachers had spared no pains in preparing their pupils to render it both instructive and effective.

The drills by the children were especially fine, and altogether the evening's entertainment was a success.

The debate on Tuesday night, in which four of the finest speakers in the school participated, was a pronounced success from an oratorical standpoint. The subject, "This Nation Will Fall as all Others Have Fallen," was affirmed by the Haut et Bon society, and negatived by the Utile Dulci's, W. H. Kash and E. O. Taulbee, of Hazel Green, representing the first society and R. R. Nick and Noah Cisco, of Morgan county, the latter. The first speech was made by Willie Kash for the affirmative, followed by Mr. Nickell for the negative. Then E. O. Taulbee for the affirmative and Noah Cisco closed for the negative. The judges retired for a few minutes consultation and brought in their decision which awarded the medal to Willie Kash as the best speaker, and the argument in the Utile Dulci representatives.

Wednesday morning Edward Oney delivered his graduating oration, "Alone, Yet Not All Alone," which was both well written and well delivered. Indeed, it was so good that if we can do so we shall reproduce it in our next issue.

Elder J. C. Kendrick, of Danville, delivered a lecture on education, its usefulness when properly applied; how everyone was made better by it whether on the farm or in the forum; whether a lawyer or a laborer. But he warned them that if it were only to accumulate money, education was improperly used, and one had better be and remain in ignorance than to put knowledge to such ignoble use. His lecture abounded with witticisms and apt illustrations as object lessons of the ideas he endeavored to express.

Then the award of the diploma to H. E. Oney as graduate was made by Prof. Cord, who also presented the medals, as follows: R. K. Nickell, Index, for scholarship, and John W. Profit, Democrat, for deportment and attendance.

On Wednesday evening Elder Kendrick delivered an address to the Young People's Society of the Christian Endeavor at the Christian church.

Thus closed the eleventh session of the Hazel Green academy in a blaze of glory and brilliant success.

PRESS INFLUENCE.

A Nashville Clergyman Commends the Press of the Country.

The Rev. W. T. Rodgers recently delivered an eloquent sermon in Nashville to a large congregation partially consisting of newspaper men. In the course of his remarks he said:

We understand that newspapers are great news gatherers, and the same question is asked on the streets today that was asked at Athens centuries ago:—"What is the news?" To gratify the desire of people newspapers were established. All people read them. The newspapers have the eye and ear of the world, and newspaper men are writing the world's history. They see and hear everything which happens, and tell every one about it. Great libraries exist and are multiplied because of the writers, printers and printing presses.

Some of our greatest newspaper men began their newspaper career as newsboys, and then step by step they climbed the ladder of fame until they reached the pinnacle of the profession.

Trained muscle is just as necessary in getting out a newspaper as a trained mind. I believe that the Church of Christ is not taking as much interest in newspaper men as it should. I have searched the records, but have never found a special sermon for newspaper men.

Newspapers have exerted a great influence upon the public. This great Centennial could not have been what it is today without the great advertisement that the newspapers have given it. Then newspapers correct evils and right wrongs. The opportunity for doing good, breaking chains of depression and other great things that these men have untold.

I wish that the newspaper men would minimize the evil and maximize the good. I also wish that newspapers would be more careful about personal matters. A man wronged by a newspaper can never be righted sufficiently to erase the blot from his reputation.

I believe that newspapers ought to put sin in its true light, and on the other hand, put virtue in its right light. I believe that the true and righteous printing press is the greatest enemy that the devil has.

These men are largely the leaders of the people, and they ought to be the best men in the world. Although newspaper men have great temptations, with the help of God they can serve Him as well at the printing press as anywhere else in the world. A man is not fallen but that God can lift him up so that he may be a blessing to the world. Conscience is the voice of God. I don't care how good or how mean a person is, he has a conscience.

Newspaper men, as other men, will have to give an account of their actions on the judgment day. I congratulate you newspaper men for your glorious opportunities, and sincerely hope that you will use them in elevating and Christianizing the people. I believe that a glorious crown awaits a man who has consecrated his printing press for the uplift of the people. May God bless the newspaper men of this country and use them for the good of the people is my earnest prayer.—Newspaper Maker.

Miss Zerilda Wood and brother, Alfred, are visiting relatives and friends on Holley this week.

LAW OR NO LAW

Is the Issue in Bath County, Says Judge Gudgeon—His Manly Stand.

An Owingsville special, May 26, says: "The mob which was proclaimed to be due here last night to release Prisoner Johnson failed to materialize. Every thing is quiet here today, yet every one is on the alert, and the snapping of a twig is enough to call together a force of frightened men. Judge Gudgeon, in an address to the public, says in part:

"The law to suppress mob violence will be sustained by the whole power of the state. We have a fearless and vigilant sheriff and the backing of the law-abiding element of the community. We need have no fear of the result of the conflict. The law will prevail. The question of free pikes is submerged in the great issue of law or no law.

"It is useless to discuss the one. It is absolutely necessary to maintain the other. The private and public property in turnpikes, and families living in the toll houses will be protected as long as we are the county's officers. It may be necessary to spend more money in sixty days than would buy all the roads in the county and maintain them for five years.

"We have now no lawful way to obtain the money for the purchase and maintenance of free pikes, but there is no constitutional limit in the power of court to levy any amount to preserve the public peace and safety.

"There are fifteen gates in the county that have a right to demand protection from the county. Ten guards at each gate at $2 per day, with the necessary guns and ammunition will cost in one month as much as we now raise by our annual fifty-cent levy. Every foot of land in the county is mortgaged to pay this debt. It falls heavy upon the small farm with its capacity already overtaxed to support the family, but the life and legal right of the humblest toll gate keeper in Bath county are worth it all, and if it takes every dollar's worth of property in the county, it is better spent in enforcing the law than suffering the depredation and destruction at the hands of the lawless bands of midnight marauders.

"There would be no need of spending $300 or $400 a day defending toll gates if the tax payers will do their duty by either persuading their neighbors and tenants or informing upon them. Murder, arson, robbery, dynamite and raids on property and citizens are openly and defiantly advocated in every quarter. Has it come to the pass that an honest man is afraid to denounce these outrages at all times and all places? No. Do your duty as good citizens, and we can stop this in a week."

Judge Gudgeon also offers a reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of persons engaged in Friday night's raid. This is in addition to a similar reward offered by the governor. Thirty guards are patrolling Owingsville tonight to prevent raiders from burning the town.

Boone Stamper, of Stamper branch, was taken ill about three weeks ago and has since been confined to his home unable to do anything. His neighbors very kindly volunteered their services and planted his corn for him, and should he not get better they will aid all they can in making a crop. Such neighbors are an honor to any community, and when one lives in a neighborhood peopled like that he feels that he is among friends. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Stamper will soon regain his health.

Thos. J. Dunaway, of Berry Station, Harrison, county, is here under treatment with Dr. Mason Kash. Mr. Dunaway is about 78 years of age, and some 30 years ago Dr. Kash, when yet a young physician, reduced a severe dislocation of the shoulder, since which time they have been fast friends.

Corn is worth a dollar a bushel in Mexico and as Mexico has not changed her money standard the dollar which the farmers gets for his bushel of corn will still be a dollar to pay his debts and taxes, railroad fares and hotel bills, and buy a dollar's worth of anything he needs from the merchant. Corn is worth twenty-four cents a bushel in Chicago and since our money standard has been changed from the double standard to the gold standard the 24 cents which the farmer gets for his bushel of corn pays 24 cents on his debts, taxes, railroad fares and hotel bills, where formerly a bushel of corn would have paid 48 cents on his debts, taxes, etc. While the change in the money standard has cut his price of corn half in two, debts, taxes, railroad fares and interest rates were not correspondingly reduced. This illustration has a wide application which every intelligent man will understand, demonstrates the injustice which the gold standard has done to all classes except the money lenders, monopolists and those who have fixed incomes which are not affected by the general condition of the country.

June 1. ENQUIRER.

Mrs. Eliza Swango looked for her son, James H. Swango, to arrive home on Monday evening, and was disappointed that he did not. About the time, however, that she expected him in the flesh the mail arrived and she was handed a letter from him with two handkerchiefs enclosed. She gulped down her disappointment in not seeing him and sat down to shed tears in relief, when it suddenly dawned upon her that providence had provided her with the handkerchiefs at an opportune moment. So she wiped her weeping eyes with Jim's newly arrived linen, and contented herself in the hope that he would be here the last of the month, at which time he has promised to make them a visit. He is now at Memphis, Tenn.

THE HERALD FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING

June Ladies' Home Journal.

The June Ladies' Home Journal presents an infinite variety of strikingly interesting, timely and practical features. It opens with an article by Wm. George Jordan on "What Victoria Has Seen," which graphically recounts the progress of the world in the past sixty years, since the coronation of the English Sovereign. Coming on the eve of the Queen's Jubilee it is especially timely. The establishment of Methodism in America is told in an interesting article, by Rev. W. J. Scott, D. D., on "When John Wesley Preached in Georgia." It narrates Wesley's great work, his forceful preaching, describes the first Methodist sermon in America, which was delivered by Wesley, and his Sunday-school, which was the first in the world. "Uncle Sam's Confessional" describes how the money paid into the Confession Fund of the United States Treasury is received, and how its guilty senders carefully avoid revealing their identity.

Edward W. Bok makes an appeal that the poor children of the cities be given an outing in country during a part of the summer. He vigorously denounces "The Offense of the Colored Shirt" also discusses the "Itch to be Seen." Lovers of fiction will read with delight Ella Higginson's short story, "One o' Them Still, Stubborn Kinds," and Alice S. Wolf's romance, "Her After-Fame." Charles Dana Gibson's drawing—"The People of Dickens"—most interesting pictures Mr. and Mrs. Micawber, David Copperfield and Traddles, and a page of Mr. Woolf's waifs gives a most touching insight into what summer means to the children of the poor in cities. A song, "Wake Up! Cupid," by Willard Spencer, author of "The Princess Bonnie," "The Little Tycoon," etc., will be welcomed by every lover of music. Dwight L. Moody's contribution to his series of Bible Class articles discusses "Hope" in the Evangelist's characteristic, lucid manner, and "Droch" chats of "Humor and the Humorists."

Along the more practical lines are Mrs. S. T. Rorer's "Cooking Lessons" on vegetables and their preparation; "A Simple Way to Swim"; "The Back Yard as a Summer Retreat"; "Lamp Shades for Summer Cottages"; "The City Woman's Garden"; "For Wear in Summer Travel"; "What to Expect from a Young Man," by Ruth Ashmore, articles on dress, needlework, etc. The June Journal is attractive, interesting and instructive from cover to cover. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Ten cents per copy; one dollar per year.

RESPIRATIONS.

JUDGE GUDGELL, of Bath county, is the hero of the hour and an honor to Kentucky. Were every county in the state blessed with such an executive officer mob law would soon be a thing of the past. His manly address to the people of his county, published elsewhere in this issue, in which he appeals to the taxpayers to do their duty as good citizens, is a document that deserves preservation among the precious papers in the archives of the state, and the example set by him is worthy the emulation of every county judge in the commonwealth under like circumstances. Good people everywhere will sing him psalms of praise and hold up his hands with pen and press for his laudable and law-loving course in protecting the property and lives of all the citizens of his county, for the first of which he is the trustee and the latter guardian. In commending his course one can not help contrasting his character with the craven cowardice of other county judges in this old commonwealth, so celebrated for its chivalrous and courageous citizens. But the recent conduct of the latter is too odious for comparison. Gudgell is a gladiator worthy any in the knight errantry lists of old, and then as now would have been a hero worthy the homage of all honest citizens. As to the matter of free pikes we have nothing to say, except to go on record with this prediction: Through neglect and for other reasons they will sooner or later become an intolerable nuisance, and prove an incubus upon our industry. But, that every citizen ought to be protected in his property as well as his personal rights no honest man can or will deny. This is what Judge Gudgell is doing, and for which he deserves commendation. The cry, "Down with the gates," until those who own them have been paid for their property, is only flying in the face of freedom the red rag of anarchy, and if not speedily suppressed would very soon reduce our country to a state of ruin second only to that of Russia, where anarchy, nihilism and their kindred evils run riot. The owners of turnpike stock and toll gates are as much entitled to the law's protection as is the merchant to his merchandise or the farmer to his live stock or produce. Any idea contrary to this principle emanates from a brain so diseased as to be as dangerous as a firebrand in the hands of an incendiary, and should be instantly extinguished. The people of Bath county should accept Judge Gudgell's diagnosis of the disease with which they are prostrated, and with him unite in prompt treatment to eradicate it ere it becomes epidemic. His is apparently the only remedy for ready relief, and its quick application will save expense. All honor to Gudgell. Would there were more of him.

THE contest for the Democratic nomination of a candidate for clerk of the appellate court, now on at Frankfort, promises to be decidedly warm. The strength of the six candidates, indicated by the instructed votes and on estimates as to uninstructed votes, will be about as follows on the first ballot: Greene, 262; Richardson, 238; Shackelford, 191; Ford, 153; Watson, 145; Mason, 104. King Ford's chance for the nomination seems critical, but his friends indulge the hope that he may come in on a combination.

MANY of the young men and young women of Hazel Green academy will soon take upon themselves the responsibility of school teaching, and in their respective districts endeavor to impart to the "young ladies" under their care that knowledge they have so assiduously labored to attain while attending the academy. What more refreshing, after the week's work has been carefully and conscientiously performed than to read THE HERALD, and hear what their companions are doing. Like a letter from home, though more elaborately, it will each week tell you of those with whom you have talked, toiled or toyed—and always glad tidings, let us hope. Can you afford to deny yourself this little luxury? We opine not, and we therefore modestly suggest that you subscribe at once. You can send in your address afterward. Step in and see us; it may be to your interest to do so.

DISTINCT earthquake shocks were felt at various points in Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Alabama and other states on Monday afternoon, about 1:15 o'clock. As it seemed to be confined to southern states, usually Democratic in politics, the shake up appears significant of the wrath of providence against them for passing under Republican rule. But this is only a forerunner of what they are yet to feel for their foolishness, and it should be an especial warning to gold standard Democrats for their wayward course in deserting the free-silver cause.

The K. V. M. A.

Proceedings of the fourth semi-annual meeting of the Kentucky Valley Medical Association held at Torrent, Ky., May 28 and 29, 1897.

The following members were present: Dr. B. D. Cox, sr., Dr. W. G. Daily, Dr. B. D. Cox, jr., Dr. H. H. Stamper, Dr. Profit, Dr. J. H. Stamper, Dr. W. B. Bush, Dr. C. B. Baker and Dr. B. Littlepage.

The president, Dr. B. D. Cox, delivered the address of welcome. Several members had papers, which were read and discussed by all, of great interest to the medical fraternity.

Dr. W. B. Bush, as an honorary member of the society, also read an interesting paper on dentistry.

Drs. J. H. Stamper, J. W. Ishmale and B. Littlepage were appointed a committee to arrange a program for the next meeting.

The society was given a banquet by Dr. B. D. Cox, sr., the spread consisted of birds, fish and all the delicacies of the season, which was enjoyed by all present.

Dr. J. W. Ishmale and Dr. Hamblin were made members of the association. Music and dancing was brought in to while away the fleeting hours and make the hearts of the doctors glad.

The meeting was one of the most successful that has been held, and while it was not attended as it should have been, it was a howling success in every sense of the word.

Moved and seconded that the association invite the doctors of Clark and Montgomery counties to join us. Carried.

The association begs to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Gaines their heart-felt thanks for their kind and hospitable treatment. The next meeting will be held at Clay City, Ky., September 24th, 1897.

B. LITTLEPAGE, M. D., Secretary.

In taking a Sunday stroll "our man about town" encountered Jimmie James and inquired the news. The little 6-year-old son of Mr. James was present during the conversation between his pa and the paper man, and eyed with a wistful look our dog "Boston." To have a talk with this precocious youngster, our m. a. t. asked him what he would give for the pug? He said he didn't know, and was then asked if he would not give a horse? "No, sir," he quickly replied, "but I'll give you a bear—when I get one." The reporter was puzzled at the remark, and in explanation his father said that he and some of his friends had been talking of going bear hunting. Stevie, the little fellow referred to, had heard the "bear talk" and jumped to the conclusion that bruin would be caught whether or not. Hence his proposition, and it was one that would do credit to an older head. The kids are awfully bright as a general rule, and this little fellow has a head on him like old folks.

Mrs. Curtis Gevedon, Dr. Gevedon's daughter Miss Barbara, and a Miss Williams, all of the Chapel neighborhood, were visiting here Saturday and provided themselves with some pretty headwear—from Mrs. S. B. Kash's up to date stock.

Louis & Gus Straus,

THE PIONEER CLOTHIERS.

LEXINGTON, KY.

Some one stole a fine saddle from the barn of Sheriff Sam Henry Wilson, of the State Road fork, on Sunday night. A suspicious looking party, riding a horse with only saddle blanket and pockets to accommodate his seating capacity, passed the barn late that day, and when the theft was discovered the conclusion that he got it was the sequence. Acting upon this theory, Mr. Wilson and his nephew, Will Henry Wilson, started in pursuit of the stranger. But whether they overhauled him and recaptured the pigskin, or it proved a cold trail, "our man about town" did not learn.

LATER—They caught their man near Prestonsburg, in Floyd county, with the saddle in his possession, from which he had removed the fenders and stirrup straps, and brought him back. He is a young man and his father, G. A. Brown, lives at Jeffersonville, Montgomery county, to whom he has written of his troubles.

There will be preaching at Toliver Chapel on Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. Rev. Mr. Doan, the Congregational minister, will conduct the services, and all are invited to attend.

LOCAL LAGONICS.

Mr. Sells, representing the Ideal Sulkey Co., was a guest of the Day House this week.

Berry Pieratt, with Trounstein Bros., Cincinnati, is at the Day House with his samples.

Mr. Love, representing Jeff, Newbury & Co., Hunting, W. Va., was a guest of the Day House over Sunday.

Harry Maupin, for Reed & Jordan, Portsmouth, O., was maupin around the Day House until Monday.

FOR SALE—Scholarship in one of the best Business colleges in Ohio; cost $60, will sell for $85. Address, DEMOCRAT, Greenup, Ky.

Judge Davis, representing Bettman, Bloom & Co., Cincinnati, was a guest of the Day House Monday night and took in the entertainment.

T. J. Jackson and Richard Costigan, of Olympia, Bath county, were here last week trying to buy cattle, but our man about town failed to learn their success.

Mrs. S. B. Kash was on Saturday and Sunday confined to her room with a bilious attack. Monday, however, she was able to be about and is slowly improving.

Judge G. B. Swango left Monday for Frankfort to attend the convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for clerk of the court of appeals. The judge is for King Ford, of course.

The quarterly meeting at the Rose schoolhouse on Lacy creek Sunday was attended by the largest crowd seen in years, and the buppy event was made further enjoyable with "dinner on the ground."

Scott Lacy, who left here about five years ago with his uncle, Jeff Wells, for Bedford, Iowa, is home on a visit for a month or so. He has been living in Parker, Kansas, since September last farming.

Aunt Tilda Shockey, mother of 'Squire Elias and Henry Shockey, is quite ill at the home of her son-in-law, 'Squire Jim Henry Sebastian, of Daysboro, and her advanced age renders her condition critical, to say the least.

Lung soreness is a forerunner of serious trouble. If you feel the slightest indication, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar will allay the inflammation and prevent further progress of the disease. It is the most efficient means of curing coughs, colds, and bronchial affections found in the annals of medicine.

Our man about town has learned from what he considers a thoroughly reliable source that there will be a fair held here this year, and that an effort will be made to make it a big success. It will probably be held in the light of the moon in September, the dates to be determined upon hereafter.

H. L. Center, the second hand clothing man, had his store closed last week and in the time it was closed some one entered and stole some of his goods. He knows positively of four coats missing and thinks other articles were also taken. The thieves effected an entrance through the office and thence into the store. He thinks he has a clew.

In a trial at Lee City on Monday for rights of property between Frank Center and Leander Dunn, the matter in controversy being two sheep, Center, the plaintiff, was awarded the sheep, and at once transferred them to Rollin Kash, his attorney, in payment of his fee. The cause was heard before 'Squire Jim Sebastian, and Charley Bryd, esq., was the opposing counsel.

Floyd Day, formerly of this place, has purchased a half interest in the big saw mill at Clay City, to which he will add his stove plant, and endeavor to run on full time. It will be called the Clay City Lumber and Stave Co. and James Swann, of New York City is "my partner" in the deal. This is, with one exception, we believe, the largest mill in the United States.

Charley Bryd, esq., of Lee City, passed through here Tuesday morning, en route to Campton, where he was engaged as counsel in the trial of Marion Adkins, who sued out a writ of habeas corpus for the purpose of having his bail, now $3,000, reduced. Adkins is charged with complicity in the murder of John Tatt, in this county some time ago. Spencer, the man who did the killing, is out on a bond of $3,000.

AN EARNEST APPEAL.

Having bought of H. C. Quicksall his interest in the firm of H. F. Pieratt & Co., necessitates a settlement of all the business at once, and I earnestly ask each and every person who owes said firm any amount to call and make settlement, and I wish to say that credit will be no longer extended. It takes money to run business, and money I must have. I hope no one will get offended when I refuse them credit, for this I am compelled to do in justice to myself and business. Remember this is no child's talk, but an actual fact which will be demonstrated by a refusal to farther sell goods on a credit.

Thanking you for past favors, and hoping by selling you goods cheaper than any man to merit your patronage, I remain, yours respectfully,

We are authorized to announce JOHN A. TAULBEE, of Hazel Green, as a candidate for State Senator for the 34th Senatorial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Surveyor of Morgan County.

We are authorized to announce JAMES S. HALSEY as a candidate for County Surveyor of Morgan county, subject to the decision of the voters at the November, 1897, election.

RESPIRATIONS.

JUDGE GUDGELL, of Bath county, is the hero of the hour and an honor to Kentucky. Were every county in the state blessed with such an executive officer mob law would soon be a thing of the past. His manly address to the people of his county, published elsewhere in this issue, in which he appeals to the taxpayers to do their duty as good citizens, is a document that deserves preservation among the precious papers in the archives of the state, and the example set by him is worthy the emulation of every county judge in the commonwealth under like circumstances. Good people everywhere will sing him psalms of praise and hold up his hands with pen and press for his laudable and law-loving course in protecting the property and lives of all the citizens of his county, for the first of which he is the trustee and the latter guardian. In commending his course one can not help contrasting his character with the craven cowardice of other county judges in this old commonwealth, so celebrated for its chivalrous and courageous citizens. But the recent conduct of the latter is too odious for comparison. Gudgell is a gladiator worthy any in the knight errantry lists of old, and then as now would have been a hero worthy the homage of all honest citizens. As to the matter of free pikes we have nothing to say, except to go on record with this prediction: Through neglect and for other reasons they will sooner or later become an intolerable nuisance, and prove an incubus upon our industry. But, that every citizen ought to be protected in his property as well as his personal rights no honest man can or will deny. This is what Judge Gudgell is doing, and for which he deserves commendation. The cry, "Down with the gates," until those who own them have been paid for their property, is only flying in the face of freedom the red rag of anarchy, and if not speedily suppressed would very soon reduce our country to a state of ruin second only to that of Russia, where anarchy, nihilism and their kindred evils run riot. The owners of turnpike stock and toll gates are as much entitled to the law's protection as is the merchant to his merchandise or the farmer to his live stock or produce. Any idea contrary to this principle emanates from a brain so diseased as to be as dangerous as a fire-brand in the hands of an incendiary, and should be instantly extinguished. The people of Bath county should accept Judge Gudgell's diagnosis of the disease with which they are prostrated, and with him unite in prompt treatment to eradicate it ere it becomes epidemic. His is apparently the only remedy for ready relief, and its quick application will save expense. All honor to Gudgell. Would there were more of him.

THE contest for the Democratic nomination of a candidate for clerk of the appellate court, now on at Frankfort, promises to be decidedly warm. The strength of the six candidates, indicated by the instructed votes and on estimates as to uninstructed votes, will be about as follows on the first ballot: Greene, 262; Richardson, 238; Shackelford, 191; Ford, 153; Watson, 145; Mason, 104. King Ford's chance for the nomination seems critical, but his friends indulge the hope that he may come in on a combination.

MANY of the young men and young women of Hazel Green academy will soon take upon themselves the responsibility of school teaching, and in their respective districts endeavor to impart to the "young ideas" under their care that knowledge they have so assiduously labored to attain while attending the academy. What more refreshing, after the week's work has been carefully and conscientiously performed than to read THE HERALD, and hear what their companions are doing. Like a letter from home, though more elaborately, it will each week tell you of those with whom you have talked, toiled or toyed—and always glad tidings, let us hope. Can you afford to deny yourself this little luxury? We opine not, and we therefore modestly suggest that you subscribe at once. You can send in your address afterward. Step in and see us; it may be to your interest to do so.

DISTINCT earthquake shocks were felt at various points in Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Alabama and other states on Monday afternoon, about 1:15 o'clock. As it seemed to be confined to southern states, usually Democratic in politics, the shake up appears significant of the wrath of providence against them for passing under Republican rule. But this is only a forerunner of what they are yet to feel for their foolishness, and it should be an especial warning to gold standard Democrats for their wayward course in deserting the free-silver cause.

The K. V. M. A.

Proceedings of the fourth semi-annual meeting of the Kentucky Valley Medical Association held at Torrent, Ky., May 28 and 29, 1897.

The following members were present: Dr. B. D. Cox, sr., Dr. W. G. Daily, Dr. B. D. Cox, jr., Dr. H. H. Stamper, Dr. Proffit, Dr. J. H. Stamper, Dr. W. B. Bush, Dr. C. B. Baker and Dr. B. Littlepage.

The president, Dr. B. D. Cox, delivered the address of welcome. Several members had papers, which were read and discussed by all, of great interest to the medical fraternity.

Dr. W. B. Bush, as an honorary member of the society, also read an interesting paper on dentistry.

Drs. J. H. Stamper, J. W. Ishmael and B. Littlepage were appointed a committee to arrange a program for the next meeting.

The society was given a banquet by Dr. B. D. Cox, sr., the spread consisted of birds, fish and all the delicacies of the season, which was enjoyed by all present.

Dr. J. W. Ishmael and Dr. Hamblin were made members of the association. Music and dancing was brought in to while away the fleeting hours and make the hearts of the doctors glad.

The meeting was one of the most successful that has been held, and while it was not attended as it should have been, it was a howling success in every sense of the word.

Moved and seconded that the association invite the doctors of Clark and Montgomery counties to join us. Carried.

The association begs to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Gaines their heart-felt thanks for their kind and hospitable treatment.

The next meeting will be held at Clay City, Ky., September 24th, 1897.

B. LITTLEPAGE, M. D., Secretary.

In taking a Sunday stroll "our man about town" encountered Jimmie James and inquired the news. The little 6-year-old son of Mr. James was present during the conversation between his pa and the paper man, and eyed with a wistful look our dog "Boston." To have a talk with this precocious youngster, our m. a. t. asked him what he would give for the pug? He said he didn't know, and was then asked if he would not give a horse? "No, sir," he quickly replied, "but I'll give you a bear—when I get one." The reporter was puzzled at the remark, and in explanation his father said that he and some of his friends had been talking of going bear hunting. Stevie, the little fellow referred to, had heard the "bear talk" and jumped to the conclusion that bruin would be caught whether or not. Hence his proposition, and it was one that would do credit to an older head. The kids are awfully bright as a general rule, and this little fellow has a head on him like old folks.

Mrs. Curtis Gevedon, Dr. Gevedon's daughter Miss Barbara, and a Miss Williams, all of the Chapel neighborhood, were visiting here Saturday and provided themselves with some pretty headwear—from Mrs. S. B. Kash's up to date stock.

Charley Shiveley, representing James A. Shuttleworth & Co., Louisville clothiers, is at the Day House. He came over from Campton yesterday, having telephoned H. F. Pieratt & Bro. for a hack to meet him at that place.

Louis & Gus Straus,

THE PIONEER CLOTHIERS.

LEXINGTON, KY.

Some one stole a fine saddle from the barn of Sheriff Sam Henry Wilson, of the State Road fork, on Sunday night. A suspicious looking party, riding a horse with only saddle blanket and pockets to accommodate his seating capacity, passed the barn late that day, and when the theft was discovered the conclusion that he got it was the sequence. Acting upon this theory, Mr. Wilson and his nephew, Will Henry Wilson, started in pursuit of the stranger. But whether they overhauled him and recaptured the pignskin, or it proved a cold trail, "our man about town" did not learn.

LATER—They caught their man near Prestonsburg, in Floyd county, with the saddle in his possession, from which he had removed the fenders and stirrup straps, and brought him back. He is a young man and his father, G. A. Brown, lives at Jeffersonville, Montgomery county, to whom he has written of his troubles.

There will be preaching at Toliver Chapel on Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. Rev. Mr. Doan, the Congregational minister, will conduct the services, and all are invited to attend.

Misses Myrtle and Maud Maxey, of West Liberty, availed of the occasion and bought their hats of Mrs. S. B. Kash while here this week.

AN EARNEST APPEAL.

Having bought of H. C. Quicksall his interest in the firm of H. F. Pieratt & Co., necessitates a settlement of all the business at once, and I earnestly ask each and every person who owes said firm any amount to call and make settlement, and I wish to say that credit will be no longer extended. It takes money to run business, and money I must have. I hope no one will get offended when I refuse them credit, for this I am compelled to do in justice to myself and business. Remember this is no child's talk, but an actual fact which will be demonstrated by a refusal to farther sell goods on a credit.

Thanking you for past favors, and hoping by selling you goods cheaper than any man to merit your patronage, I remain, yours respectfully,

H. F. PIERATT,

The Friend of the People.

Miss Florence LeMaster, of Louisville, is attending the closing exercises of the academy and enjoying the entertainments. Miss LeMaster was educated at the Masonic Home, Louisville, and since January has been visiting friends and relatives at Frenchburg.

Sam Tabor, of Rothwell, who has been here ten days or two weeks recuperating, left for home Tuesday morning, feeling like a new man. There is no place on earth where you can so easily rid yourself of "that tired feeling" as right here. Come and try it and be convinced.

Mrs. O. A. Burgess, of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the general committee of the C. W. R. M., and Mrs. W. S. Keene, of Winchester, president of the Kentucky C. W. R. M., visited at the Academy Home from Thursday until Saturday. Pressing engagements elsewhere precluded the possibility of their remaining to witness the closing exercises at the academy, a pleasure they relinquished under protest.

The many friends of Little Robert Kash will be glad to learn that he has secured a school in Lee county to teach during the coming term, and rejoice also that he has a certificate authorizing him to do so. Pedagogy is the way you must address him now. Apropos of this announcement it affords us much pleasure to recommend him to the people of the district in which he is to teach, and should he prove remiss or recreant to the trust, he will disprove our estimate, viz., that he is every inch "a little man."

Breck Amyx was a few days since summoned to Mt. Sterling to attend a meeting of the Arlington-Adelphi Co. to be held in that city on the 7th inst. The company is a real estate organization, in which Breck holds a large slice of stock, among the belongings being a hotel in Huntington, W. Va., and several business houses at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Amyx will also go to Huntington, and look after his business interests there.

John Allen, who was married May 11, to Mrs. Rhoda Clark, of the Cox Mill neighborhood, has gone to Magoffin to remove his family and plunder to his new home, which he will make in the house recently vacated by Porter Clark, near by his brother-in-law Enoch Nickell. This is Allen's third matrimonial venture and the second game of hazard for a husband that has engaged Mrs. Clark. Her former union leaves no issue, however, while his two are rich in resources as he has eight children, five of whom he will bring to bless his new home, and it is for these he migrated to Magoffin.

The Shelby News in giving an account of a recent freak in that county, says: "Quite a freak is reported by R. C. Lewis, of the Bagdad neighborhood. A mare belonging to him foaled a mule colt on March 19 and a horse colt on April 22. Both were perfectly formed, the former, however, living but a short time."

Emmence has a darkey known as "Hog" who works at irregular intervals on the "rock pile." Recently he approached the marshal and asked if he didn't have some time to his credit. After looking over his books the marshal told "Hog" there were three days to his credit but not to worry as in a few days he would need them. Next day "Hog" was in the lock-up, but he had something to his credit.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me; and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale by J. T. Day.

Large Salaries.

The largest newspaper salaries in the world are paid to special correspondents by London journals. Henry de Blowitz, the Paris correspondent for the Times, gets $50,000 a year, and the man who writes the column called "Paris Day by Day" for the Daily Telegraph has $1,500 a week. George Augustus Sala received the same salary for "London Day by Day." The London Times pays Rudyard Kipling as war correspondent to Greece a salary of $5,000 a week. For years the Times paid Archibald Forbes $10,000 a year merely to have him in readiness if a war took place. He has now retired without ever fulfilling his mission to write.—Boston Globe.

"For three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy in this house," says A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by J. T. Day.

What's the Matter With Mr. Dana. The Courier-Journal calls upon the American Dialect Society to etymologize the word "syfaxing."

Judge Robert Riddell, of Estill, tells a story of his early practice in that county in which a number of citizens were being tried before the local magistrate for engaging in a free for all fight. Riddell was conducting the cross-examination, and asked the witness the question: "Where was Jim Pucket during all this time?" The answer of the witness was: "Oh, he was just syfaxing around." Riddell quickly interrupted him to inquire what "syfaxing" meant; whereupon the court interposed with the explanation that a lawyer who didn't know the meaning of "syfaxing" would not be allowed to practice in his court.—Clay City Chronicle. What's the matter with Mr. Dana?

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale by J. T. Day.

When the Hartford Herald penned the subjoined editorial it told the truth and nothing but the truth. The Herald says:

The best dollar a man ever gave is the one he gives for his county paper. He gets more real worth and a fuller return for that dollar than for almost anything else for which he could spend it. The paper keeps him informed of the doings of the world, of the news of his country; it educates his children and enables him to converse knowingly upon the topics of the day. It is an antidote for ignorance, a constant adviser, a continuous flow of general knowledge, and a companion whose word can be relied upon. The country paper is not appreciated as highly as it should by the very persons who should be its best friends. No good citizen should so far forget himself as to disparage or speak slightly of the value of his county paper.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle of common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full postoffice address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS, of Greenville, Texas, says: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."
